GETTYSBURG COLLEGE BULLETS MARCHING BAND

The Bullets Marching Band is excited to perform their 2025 pregame and halftime show at the Collegiate Marching Band Festival. This year's halftime show is Mr. Worldwide and Beyond, a show featuring the music of Pitbull and more. We'll light it up with Fireball, take a trip through time with Feel This Moment, and make the whole stadium sing along to Give Me Everything. Just when you think the party can't get any bigger, we'll shout out We Are Young before wrapping things up with a stadium-shaking finale of Mr. Brightside. So grab your sunglasses, raise your hands, and get ready to go worldwide with us!

Based in the Sunderman Conservatory of Music, bands at Gettysburg College have been an important part of the artistic life of the college community for over 115 years. During football season, the Bullets Marching Band entertains crowds at home games with a traditional collegiate pre-game show featuring traditional Gettysburg and Pennsylvania songs, supports the team with rousing stands tunes, and performs a corps-style halftime program. In addition, the band performs in exhibition at high school marching festivals throughout the area and marches in the Gettysburg Halloween Parade. Marching Band membership is open to all Gettysburg College students, and is just one of the many instrumental ensembles that the Sunderman Conservatory of Music has to offer, including the Wind Symphony, Symphony Band, Jazz Ensemble, and Orchestra. The Sunderman Conservatory offers three degrees in music, including the Bachelor of Music (performance), Bachelor of Music Education, and Bachelor of Arts in Music as well as a music minor. For more information about ensembles, music, and the Sunderman Conservatory at Gettysburg College, visit www.gettysburg.edu/music.

We hope you enjoy the 2025 Bullets Marching Band Show, Mr. Worldwide and Beyond!

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

The 2025 edition of the Pride of the Valley is excited to present its show; Love Hurts. This year's show features the music of Rimsky-Korsakov, Guns N' Roses, and Seal.

We open this year's show with "The Sea and Sinbad's Ship" from Scheherazade intertwined with the iconic rock anthem "Sweet Child O' Mine". Here, love is new - thrilling, adventurous, and overwhelming like an untamed sea.

In the second movement, Rimsky-Korsakov's "The Young Prince and the Young Princess" merges with Seal's heartfelt ballad, "Kiss From a Rose". This tender union paints love in its most intimate form: fragile, lyrical, and vulnerable. Yet even in its beauty, cracks begin to form hinting at the pain to come.

Our show culminates with "The Festival of Baghdad", a frenzied celebration of passion turned chaos. Motifs from earlier movements resurface like memories of love, only to be swept away in the storm of intensity and heartbreak.

In the end, Love Hurts is both a celebration and a warning: Love is the most powerful of human emotions, capable of elevating us or shattering us entirely.

Celebrating 101 years of School Spirit & Pride!

Prof. Trever R. Famulare – Director
Dr. Tyler Wales – Assistant Director

The 2025 Shippensburg University Marching Band is excited for another season and proudly celebrating its 101st year of tradition and excellence. This journey has been a testament to the band's enduring legacy and its unwavering commitment to enhancing the marching arts beyond high school while creating a memorable experience for students and audiences alike.

Founded in 1924, the SUMB has evolved from a small ensemble into a cornerstone of the university's spirit and pride. They have become synonymous with high energy, precision, and an unrivaled enthusiasm that resonates throughout the Shippensburg community, across the east coast and internationally. The band's rich history is marked by numerous accolades, memorable performances, and a legacy of shaping generations of talented musicians that have become our FAMILY.

This year's band is fortunate to have 50+ outstanding 1st year members and experienced returning members working to provide our audiences with a memorable experience on and off the field.
